THE PREACHERS.

OME LIBERAL IDEAS FROM DR. ELI FAY, nd a Batch of Free Thought from Mr. York—Meeting of the Young

The Church of the Unity held usual serv-ces at the Opera House yesterday at 11 'clock, with a large attendance. When the ninister said, "Let us praise God," the peo-it is ter said, "Let us produced, it is and choir responded, "On that our thoughts and thanks may rise As grateful incense to the skies, And draw from heaven that sweet repose Which none but him that feels it knows." After exhortation and prayer the congregation joined with a full chorus of voices, who was also with a full chorus of voices. Worship the King All Giories.

Dr. Fay took his triple text from I. Gor., xiv, 19: "I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue." Acts, xxiv, 16: "And herein de I exercise myself to have a conscience void of offense toward God ands toward men." Romans, vili, 38, 30: "For I am persuaded that neither life nor death . . . shall separate us from the love of God."

These three texts present religion in its threefold aspect:
1. Great doctrines, facts and principles are addressed to our understanding.
2. Moral rectitude; the importance of practical righteousness,
3. Reverence; a consciousness of the character of sacred things.
No man ever combined more happily than the lightental morel and sprift.

s. Reverence; a consciousness of the character of sacred things.

No man ever combined more happily than St. Paul the intellectual, moral and spiritual. The eloquence, vigor, force, persustreness of Paul could almost induce the King. (Agrippa) to be a Christian.

We cannot fall to discover that Christianity is presented to us in this threefold aspect: 1. As a system of dectrines based on pivotal facts. 2. In a perfectly natural way to apply the great truths of Christianity to practical ends. 3. Personal conformity to the divine law brings the soul late conscious relationship with God, gives real spiritual communion and fellowship and opens up the spiritual resources of the universe.

A person must pass through these three experiences before he can know Christianity as a system of. philosophy before knowing its benefits, but the judgment must be convinced.

Christianity will not bear the closest inspection.

Genuine religion is of God. Can we suppose that when all His material works challenge our investigation that in the spiritualrealm His ways are so strange, so irrational, that He protests against examination?

I never advocate a religion devoid of warmth and glow of sentiment, but would have the steady warmth and glow of the sum. Only as a philosophy or code of morals religion has never moved the masses.
It must move the heart.

He condemned all theories that religion is solely a matter of the heart—emotional—and that these forms must be unchecked and undirected, and the more intense the better. He replied to this, "there is no such duality in the human nature. That the rational and emotional powers are somewhat unlike is true, but that they are not equally different functions of the one mind, equally amenable to fact is not true." That and more critical observation of facts, and cleaner eductions therefrom.

The reason, conscience and emotions are not so distinct in their nature or operations that they can safely act independently of one anomer. As the condition of accomplishing the grandest things of which the intellect its capable, "it must be absolutely loyal to uself. Even truth in its highest aspects is bot discernible to a disloyal mind. Conscience needs the direction of the practical judgment, the suggestions of enlightened reason. When reason is dethroned no ism is too abourd to make enthusiastic converts. Sentiment refusing allegiance to the judgis too about to make enthusiastic converts. Sentiment refusing allegiance to the judgment is a most dangerous leader. It is not true that only the emotional nature is capable of apprehending divine things. God speaks to reason as well as to conscience and the spiritual faculties.

By the scientific materialization and defiant worldliness of today religion has been put upon the defensive as never before, and if its citadel is successfully defended against all modern attacks it will not be solely by a ministry to the emotions but by the exercise of pure reason. It is not true that reason has proved a blind guide.

not true that reason has proved a blind guide.

After dwelling at length upon the methods of those who practice upon the emotional natures solely or chiefly, the Doctor condemned it for these reasons: It deprives us of the combined wisdom of our powers; it presents a one-sided view of religion, and throws the individual life and character out of balance. Thousands whose religious sensibilities, once acute, perceiving that their religion was not rational, healthy or true to life, have discarded it, and are now the most unapproachable persons in the community.

Summing all up—First. Only harm can come from divorcing the intelligence from the emotions. Second. Practical righteousness is an element, of true religion, and without it faith or profession, or tears or groans or hallelujahs, are as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal. Third. Reverence. Fourth. Not until the whole being is brought into harmony with the mind and will of God has Christianity done its perfect work.

A Discourse On "The Science of Life."

About 200 persons met at Odd Fellows'
Hall yesterday, at-3 p.m., to hear Dr. York.
The chairman, Dr. Clark, in presenting the speaker, said that an organization was being formed having for its object the free discussion of some questions about which people were thinking; in short, a society for the were thinking; in short, a society for the promotion of universal mental liberty, and all those sympathizing with the movement were asked to lend their assistance and form more perfectly for a systematic course of lectures. Dr. York expects to lecture several Sundays.

He said: "I have been called here to do a little work, not that there are not preachers enough to do it, but we wish to save these who are not in the church and don't want to be. I am an exponent of certain principles involving the salvation of the entire human family. What do you believe? What do I believe? I came to presume on your intellige are. I believe there are theories of salvation not involved in theology. I ask for a right to think. Not one church in your city gives its people a right to think but Breiher Fay. They give you some lines, in which their people have to think. I propose to think out of these lines. You must judge of me. I am a Freethalper.

lines. You must judge of me. I am a Freethinker.'

He then read for his text a poem to this effect:

"John and Peter, Robert and Paul, "

God in his wisdom created them all," and said: "I was a Methodist for 25 years; I preached heilfire and Methodism; felt comfortable; at home believed as the people and they believed as I did, in one God, one Son, one baptism, one heaven and one hell; we all thought alike. We are differently situated this afternoon; you do not believe alike; you can'tsee alike. Ought everybody to be a Universalist, a Presbyterian or a Methodist or be damned if he is not? My effort shall be to make people believe they can be saved in their own shoes and on their own heels, a universal salvation for all. We ask mental liberty to receive or reject. A man can't believe just what he will, but what the weight of evidence will furnish him. It would have been quite as easy to have made a Mormon, a Mohammedan or a Turk of me as a Methodist. Then will you tell me my salvation depends upon my birth or surroundings? No; it is not good sense. Beliefs have little to do with the salvation of the human family, mark that! The diversity of the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the plant in the human family is the proudest crown of glory that can rest on the human family is the plant in the human family is the plant in the fores of infidelity destroy. This is not true. I'm here to deny it. T back and the glory of science at its right hand.

"The science of Life; how to be happy—does any one know it? There is a world of theory, belief and knowledge. Some things we may know, and some believe. We believe all life is one, and is the result of chemical action, and our life is the ultimate of all other life—rock to man, to angels? The complete sum of life is power; that's all there is of man. We discover man as a link in the universal chain of things, and a part of the universe. Evolution is the grandest doctrine ever known to man. Conditions are necessary to results, and produce law. We live in a world of law, and not of providence. Obedience to law brings out all the beauties of this life."

The speaker then condemned the mention of vice and stultification of human nature.

all the beauties of this life."

The speaker then condemned the mention of vice and stultification of human nature by ministers because it destroys self-respect. "If you keep your self-respect you'll never allow any preacher to call you a worm?"

He continued, dwelling upon man's greatness in the list of beings, the great good from the observance of the laws and conditions of life, and interspersed it all with wit which won occasional applause.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

A large audience of men gathered at the Congregational Church at 4 p.m. The music was very good, and was led by the plane and several members of the Association's orchestra. A special feature was a quartet of male voices.

Rev. F. von Schlüembach addressed the meeting for half an hour, giving an earnest Gospel talk. He spoke of the eager interest men have in the inmediate future, and the struggle for temporal advancement, and from that drew a lesson for the Christian of loyal, faithful service in imitation of the humble faithfulness of Christ in his mission on earth. He dwelt, finally, upon the reality there is in the rewards the Christian has in this life, and urged upon all the acceptance of Christ as master, in perfect confidence as to the outcome.

Very much interest was manifested, and the meeting throughout was most intensely a gospel meeting.

slated drunk and disorderly.

A lot of carpenters' tools, stolen from a building on Ellis avenue a week ago, and captured from a man who was attempting to sell them a few days later, were at police headquarters yesterday for reclamation. F. E. Platt proved title to a part of them.

A lodging-house on Alameda street near First is the latest victim of the festive thief. The articles stolen were bedelothing and the thieves are believed to be two young men who had taken lodgings there a day or two, probably for the purpose of pilfering. There is more thieving in this city now than ever before, and chiefly from lodging-houses.

PORT BALLONA.

A CHAT WITH THE CHIEF ENGI-NEER ABOUT IT.

The Work Accomplished and in Con-templation—A Big Project, if Suc-cessfully Carried Through—What $700,000 Would Do.

While the wonderful march of development is going on in Los Angeles and all the adjacent country at a pace so rapid that it takes away the breath, there are many of really great importance of it takes away the breath, there are many enterprises of really great importance of which we hear little—simply because they are at one side and the promoters are not given to "blowing." Port Ballona is one of these. If it proves a success, it will be one of the biggest things that ever befell Los Angeles—and those who are working there feel absolutely confident of success. A TIMES representative who called at the Times representative who called at the offices of the engineers Saturday found the president and chief engineer hard at work on the plans and drawing. There has been much accomplished already, though the officials look upon this as simply the a, b, c. A channel has been cut through the sand been much accomplished already, though the officials look upon this as simply the a, b, c. A channel has been cut through the sand beach, connecting the lake with the open sea. This channel is to be supplemented by driving lines of piles so as to make a canal running 1000 feet to sea, and 200 feet wide. These piles are 10x12, and all square. As each is driven it is to be bolted to its fellows, so that the inner walls of the channel will present a smooth, unbroken surface, rising 13 feet above the water, and driven 28 feet. At the outer end of this channel there is a decided drop in the ocean bed, which is there clay. It is claimed, and with apparent reason, that sand cannot very well wash up hill over that steep grade, so as to choke the channel; while the sand which sweeps out of the channel will drop over this bluff and be out of the way. The channel will have 21 feet of water at high tide. The anchorage outside is superb. The lumber schooner which is now unloading 430,000 feet of spiles and other lumber for the port never budged her one anchor during the recent storm which played such hob at San Pedro. She is anchored 3000 feet from shore in 49 feet of water. Each wall of the channel will be the front of a 30-foot wharf, its whole length. There are two steam pile-drivers now ready, and they will begin operations in a very few days. The harbor will be 500 feet wide and of indefinite length, it can be continued northward so as to cover fully 1000 acres. It will be excavated according to the demands. First the channel will be piled and dredged, and then the dredgers will get to work inside the harbor. After that, room can be made for a new vessel a week. A gigantic pneumatic dredger, with a capacity of 5000 cubic yards a day, has been contracted for, and will be here April 1st, The Los Angeles and Santa Moniea Railfoad is to be running by July. Pive miles of it is already graded. It will run to the south end of the port, with tracks leading the full length of all wharves. The lake is now full of square spiles, im Sends a Contribution for the Northern Citrus Fair-A New Townsite Near Pomona-A Joke by Way of Pasadena.

IMPROVEMENTS IN PROGRESS AT SANTA MONICA.

The Santa Monica Outlook gives the following summary of the principal im-provements going on in that beautiful city by the sea:

A. Montgomery is completing a hand-ome two-story residence on Eighth street.

J. A. Tobin has nearly finished a neat ane-story cottage on Sixth street, near Utah. This is the third cottage he has Utah. This is the third cottage he has built.

Ward Leavit is working on a large two-story residence on Fourth street, near the residence of W. D. Vawter. It will be nearly a duplicate of the handsome residence of W. S. Vawter, on the corner of Fourth street and Oregon avenue.

J. M. Sullivan has just completed a story-and-a-half cottage on Fourth street near Arizona avenue.

Dr. Knight has completed a large two-story residence on Fourth street between Arizona and Nevada avenues. Gen. F. B. Sargent has purchased the old "Outlook" property on Third street, and work began on Monday in remodeling the house. When completed and the grounds properly ornamented, it will be one of the handsomest places in town.

Mr. Steere's brick block will soon be mented, it will be one of the handsomest places in town.

Mr. Steere's brick block will soon be ready for the roof. It now looms up as an imposing edifice that will be an ornament to any business center.

Mr. Grimminger has moved his beer garden across to the opposite corner of Third street and Utah avenue. He has a neat saloon on the corner, and the balance of the lot is occupied by a canopy and other conveniences for a beer garden. This will no doubt be a popular resort for the old friends of the Vaterland who meet at the seaside.

lar resort for the old friends of the Vaterland who meet at the seaside.

Mr. Lewis's cottage of six rooms, on Second street, is well under way. It is a very tasty, convenient building.

Diagonally opposite to the Steere brick bleck Mr. Gorman proposes at an early day to begin the erection of a fine brick building.

J. D. Bethune's handsome cottage, opposite the Hotel Arcadia, is under roof and is about ready for the plasterers.

Mr. Richmond is making some nice improvements on his premises on Third street.

Mr. Vincent, near the corner of Third street and Nevada avenue has greatly improved his premises, and he is not done yet.

Some improvements are being made in South Santa Monica, and we under-stand there will be several new build-ings in that locality in a short time.

SANTA ANA.

Home View of the Railroad Situation There. [Pacific Blade.]

[Pacific Blade.]

Although work on both the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé and the Southern Pacific railroads is still progressing in this vicinity, definite information concerning their plans is at present difficult, if not impossible to obtain, and "railroad news" is now largely confined to rumor which may, at any moment, crystallize into fact and action. The Southern Pacific Company is now engaged in surveying between this point and the San Joaquin ranch, most of their surveys running to the north and east of Tustin. So much we know. We know also that the chief engineer and chief of construction of this company has been here more or less pany has been here more or less during the past week, and this indi-cates action at once, probably. Be-yond this we strike into the field of yond this we strike into the neut of rumor, and some of these rumors we give—as such. Rumor has it that the San Joaquin ranch has been sold to a syndicate operating in the interest of the Southern Pacific Company. In San Joaquin ranch has been sold to a syndicate operating in the interest of the Southern Pacific Company. In connection with this rumor, a gentleman, who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, informs us that this "deal" has not, as yet, been consummated, but probably soon will be. The purchase price, however, instead of being $400,000, as recently given in the neighborhood of $1,250,000. [The figures, which should be $1,400,000.] Rumor also has it that the grading force of this company, numbering 800 men, will be in Santa Ana next. Saturday and ready for work here. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Company have nearly completed their work in Santa Ana cañon and, as soon as their road is completed to Los Angeles, will push work in this direction. They are now surveying hereabouts and graders are at work near San Juan. If delay in securing the right of way from this place to the San Joaquin ranch is not experienced the road will, ere many months, be finished to that point. The purchase of the ranch by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company appears to be made for the purpose of delaying the construction of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé road is largely in pursuance of the pork policy of the former company. This is the railroad situation as far as it is now visible here, but a few days will, perhaps, make great changes in it.

Pomona.

[Progress.]

Pomona. [Progress.]

The Pacific Land Improvement Company have purchased for a townsite 286 acres from the Pomona Land and Water Company, and 65 acres of H. A. Palmer. The townsite embraces 386 acres. It is located on part of block 7 of the North Pomona tract. This is exactly three and one-half northeast of Pomona, and lene and one-half miles east of San Antonio avenue. The surveyors have about finished platting the lots. A large plaza will be in the center of the town. The San Bernardino and Los Angeles Railroad is to go through the lower portion of the town. A name has not been selected. Among those proposed are North Pomona, Alisal, Clarar Vista, Corona, Springfield, Claremont, etc.

The graders are working along the line from Ontario to the new townsite. The main Pomona depot will be on the Meserve home place, as diagrammed in the Progress of last week. In the city and valley residence and business blocks have been erected to the value of about $300,000 for the past year. Public sentiment is strongly in favor of incorporation, which will probably become a fact this spring.

In the city, business houses, etc., number as follows: Lawyers, 4; physicians, 9; dentists, 3; surveyors, 2; contractors and builders, 7; real estate, 14; feed stores, 2; photographers, 1; dressmakers, 4; blacksmiths, 7; carriage maker, 1; machine shop, 1; tinsmiths, 2; barber shops, 3; well-borers, 2; boot and shoe stores, 2; livery stables, 4; jewelers, 3; expressmen, 3; butcher shops, 3; furniture stores, 3; drug stores, 4; bakeries, 2; undertakers, 2; hardware stores, 2; undertakers, 2; hardware stores, 2; nurseries, 2; hotels, 5; warehouses, 2; groceries, 9; skating rink, 1; stationers, 3; banks, 2; general merchandise, 8; brickyard, 2; cemeteries, 2; lodging-houses, 6; water company, 1; fraternal orders, 9; cannery, 1; pipe factory, 1.

Robert Campion, of this city, is making arrangements to bring out a colony of 100 families from the south of Ireland. Last Wednesday Constable Cline to came down from Los Angeles with a warrant for the arrest of a young man for killing a horse belonging to a livery stablekeeper in that city. He found his man and arrested him, but he begged so hard not to be put in jail and made promises so fair that the constable allowed him considerable liberty. Taking advantage of this the prisoner gave his captor the slip. At 8 o'clock last evening, however, he was very cleverly recaptured by Officer Connor of this city, who found him hiding among the hills back of Old Town. Mr. Connor is new at the business, having been on the police force a few days only, but he has started in to make a record as an efficient officer.

two lines of anxious fellows, one made up of those whose names were alphabetically embraced between A and L and the other in the remainder of the first lesson you were taught when you went to school. Nothing funny or unusual about that, but when one Englishman in the ranks of the first column called to a friend in the other and exclaimed: "Come over ere; you must stand between hay and hell to get your mail at this office," everybody laughed. Our English cousin did not mean to use sulphurous language, but the raw Yankees who had heard him thought his remarks very suggestive.

A Plucky Girl.

[San Diego Sun, Feb. 10.]

Last night at about 11:30 o'clock a burglar attempted to force an entrance to the house of L. Meyrhofer, on the corner of Second and F streets. Standing upon a barrel which he had placed beneath a window, he began fumbling about the fastenings, doubtless intending to raise the sash and crawl in. He soon found out, however, that he had come to the wrong place. Mrs. Levi and daughter, guests, were in the room and had gone to bed. Miss Levi, hearing the noise at the window, crept softly out of bed and dressed herself. She then took a revolver, and cocking the weapon, slipped noiselessly out by way of the front door and opened fire on Mr. Burglar, who was scarcely ten feet distant. He jumped from the barrel and took to his heels without stopping to see who his assailant was.

Aroused from sleep by the firing, the other inmates of the house came upon the scene of action to see what it all meant. The young lady cooly explained the matter, and when asked why she did not seek assistance, she laughed heartily and said: "Oh, I didn't need any; this is not the first burglar I have driven from a house."

Miss Levi is about 18 years of age, modest and unassuming, but evidently a young lady of invincible courage. Two shots were fired at the burglar, neither of which took effect, and in fact she says her intention was merely to frighten him. It would have been an easy matter to have killed him at so short a range.

J. Henry Ambolt, of 55 Courtland street, Rochester, N. Y., writes to The Times, making inquiry for his brother, Times, making inquiry for his brother, Fred Arnbolt, who was last heard of at Colorado Springs, in the fall of 1885, and who is supposed to be now in Southern California. He is described as "medium-sized, rather slender; 27 years old; auburn or red hair; no whiskers or mustasche when last seen; weighs about 135 pounds; has very little ambition; is in poor health." The inquirer fears that Fred may be hard up financially, and would be glad to receive any information concerning his whereabouts.

words, I employ combined the treatment. What is Medical Inhalation Before stating briefly what Medical Inhalation is. I propose, in as few words as possible, to state clearly what it is not is not a cure-all, a nestrum, or a panaces. It is not a Specific Remedy for any disease. It is not a quack medicine, advertised to cure any or all the ills that deals is helr to, and Intended to fill the pockets of its proprietors. It is not a tailsman, whose possession insures health to its possessor, without the intervention of either sense or Judgment. Medical Inhalation is none of these things.

method of taking medicines by inhaling or swallowing them into the lungs, instead of swallowing them into the stomach. By inhaling atton, the proper medicines are applied directly to the seat of the disease, in the nose, threat or lungs; and it is clear to every reasoning person how peculiarly applicable inhalition in the disorders of the organs named. If you have scalded or burned the surface of the body, or wounded any limb or member, you do not swallow the remedy intended to heal the disorganized tissue. On the contrary, you apply it directly to the seat of the wound or injury. Why, then, when suffering from catarri of the nasal passages or throat, or afflicted with ulceration of the lungs, should you rely on medicines taken into the atomach? Medical, inhalation not only applies the proper healing remedies to the seat of the disease, but it applies the remedy in the gassous or vaporous form, in which form, as is well known, medicines at most powerfully. How much greater, for example, is the effect of a drachm of chloroform, when inhaled or breathed, than many times the quantity when swallowed into the stomach. The same is true of chlorine, of sodine, and of many other substances. By inhalation the medicine is not poured into the stomach, and thence sent wandering through the system in search of a malady, which may be mainly or entirely a local one; but by this method the proper remody is applied directly to the diseased organ. Who, after studying the anatomy of the hungs, can doubt that in inflammation and ulcessation of the air-tuples and air-cells, the direct application of the healing medicine is not poured into the stomach. The same is true of the indiseased aurity of the diseased parts, is the correct and chart the proper and directional as the correct and chart the proper and directional as the correct and cancer, is the correct and cancer, is by the way of the stomach. Physiology teaches us that the membrane, or all the correct the active the correct of the correct of the correct of the correct of the

Who, on the other hand, can be so irrational as to believe that the proper and direct way to reach the diseased surfaces of the air-passages, in this case, is by the way of the stomach? Physiology teaches us that the membrane, or akin, lining the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs, is only a slightly modified form of the same structure as that which covers the external surface of the body. Why, then, should local treatment, be proper and necessary for inflammations, congestions and ulcerations of the one and not be equally so in the case of the other?

My experience and success in treating discuses of the nose, throat and lungs, demonstrates, beyond all question, that the true scientific treatment of these diseases is that treatment which combines the local effects of medical inhalation with the constitutions effects of a systemic remedies, given in the usual way by the shomach, more or both methad, and such consideration of the physician have proved to be proper in each particular case.

MEDICAL ADVOCATES OF INHALATION

Any stonain with were contracted weetly, year's ago or more, and who have not kept up with the times in the advance in medical science, have very little idea of the great importance all shalls it on the treatment of pulmonary and in the little in the contract of pulmonary and in the little in the contract of pulmonary or the contract of the contrac no patient should intrust his case to any phy-sician who is not well prepared and thoroughly equipped with everything necessary for the administering of the proper remedies by the method of inhalation.

equipped with everything necessary for the administering of the proper remedies by the method of Inhalation.

The numerous cures effected by Inhalation in cases seemingly past all help, and the uniform success attending its use in diseases of the respiratory organs, renders it obligatory on every honest physician to at once apply himself to gain a practical knowledge of the Inhilation, or, if that is not possible, he is at least bound to decline to treat such cases. Among the most eminent physicians of the age who are fully awakened to the value of Medical Inhalation in these diseases are the following: The celebrated Dr. Burdon-Saunderson; Dr. La Roohe, of the Paris Academy of Medical Inhalation in these diseases are the following: The celebrated Dr. Burdon-Saunderson; Dr. La Roohe, of the Paris Academy of Medicine; Dr. Frederick Langhaus, of Berlin; Drs. Klebs and Tommasi-Crudeli; Sir Archibald Dickson, of Edinburgh, Scotland; Dr. Bichler, Dr. Cameron, Dr. Gurdon Buck, Prof. Albert Lehert, the celebrated Dr. Hughlings Jackson, the venerable Dr. Robert Dickinson, Prof. Thierfelder, Spenger Wells, Dr. Hilton Flagge, Dr. G. P. Wood, Drs. Fritsch and Hitzig, Dr. Fothergill, Dr. Richard Thompson, Dr. R. S. Carpenter, Drs. Anstle. Ball, Fuller, Lancereaux, Krauss, Huguenie, Heller, Orth, Corrigan, Fenwick and many others. With scarcely a single exception every medical authority of eminence recognizes the wonderful potency of this new method, and the coming generation of physicians are certain to be thoroughly educated therein. At present it is only a few physicians here and there who have made "Diseases of Respiration" a life study that are fitted in any way to employ the wonderful resources of Medical Inhalation in the cure of these diseases.

THE CURABILITY OF CONSUMPTION.

For five years the celebrated Dr. I. H. Bennet was pathologist to the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, and in his great work on "Consumption" he makes the following statement:
"During this peried I made upwards of 2000 post-mortem examinations of persons dying from various diseases, and I was constantly in the state of the superior of the found eavities in the stage sees in which I found eavities in the stage sees in which I found eavities in the stage sees in which I found to be seen to have been successful in restoring the wasted lung-substance, but the cavities were dried up, the progress of the disease arrested, and the subject lived for years, with diminished lung power it is true, but otherwise in good health."

County Pomologica Society.

The meetings of this society started all way two years ago, have now assumed such proportions as to attract considerable attention outside of the considerable attention outside of the special locality where meetings are held. The topics selected for discussion are asually such as will interest every fruit-grower in Southern California, and many valuable hints are obtainable by those who attend the meetings regularly. The only way to find out how our neighbors are planting trees and vines, or are pruning their trees, or handling their fruit, is to discuss the subject their fruit, is to discuss the subject with them, and it would be difficult to suggest a better method of bringing out the hidden stores of information than that adopted by this society.

The last three meetings were all held in the famous Santa Ana Valley, closing the series there with the meeting January 6th, at the city of Santa Ana. Arrangements had been carefully made for this by a committee consisting of D. Edson Smith, M. Halliday and George Minter, of Santa Ana; H. K. Snow, of Tustin, and Joel B. Parker, of Orange.

The meeting was called to order in THE MEETING.

Snow, of Tustin, and Joel B. Parker, of Orange.

The meeting was, called to order in Spurgeon's Hall by the president Hiram Hamilton, and an address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Carey R. Smith, of Santa Ana, who extended the freedom of the valley to the visitors, and bade them a cordial welcome.

This was responded to by

HIRAM HAMILTON, PRESIDENT.

This is the seventh quarterly meeting of this society. Orange, Pomona, Pasadena, Los Angeles, Anaheim and Downey have each in turn entertained the society, and today we rejoice to meet again in the beautiful valley of the Santa Ana.

The earth nowhere brings forth more generous fruits and beautiful flowers. Nowhere are to be found a more prosperous and happy people. The Los Angeles County Pomological Society appreciates the cerdial greeting and generous hospitality accorded by the citizens of Santa Ana, and while we drive through your beautiful parks, your orange groves, and breathe your baimy air, our best wishes for your future prosperity and happiness abound.

At no distant day, we are persuaded

At no distant day, we are persuaded that Orange, McPherson, Modena, Tustin and Santa Ana will form one compact city, magnificent in propor-tions and redolent with semi-tropical compact city, magnificent in proportions and redolent with semi-tropical heauty.

The history of this society is full of achievements. First and foremost is the Los Angeles County Horticultural Commission for the suppression of fruit pests. Less than two years ago a member of this society went from this valley to the county-seat, bearing to the Board of Supervisors, a petition signed by 372 fruit growers, asking for a commission for the suppression of the white cottony scale (Icarya purchusi). Some of the orange trees at Los Angeles were so loaded with this pest at the time that they presented the appearance of trees loaded with snow, the limbs bending as if loaded with fruit. At that time, the entire industry of horticulture was threatened. But they are no longer a pest. They are so far eradicated as to be under control.

During the past season the red scale (Aspidiotus Aurentii) has been very injurious to citrus culture in this and other valleys. But the efforts of our etymologists have solved the problem also. The gas fumigator on exhibition here of Messrs. Coquillette & Craw has settled this question. The red scale can and must be destroyed. "Cathago delenda est."

One of the results of the meeting at Pomona was the organization of the Orange Growers' Protective Union of Southern California, which marketed successfully more than half the orange crop of Southern California, which marketed successfully more than half the orange crop of Southern California, which marketed successfully more than half the orange crop of Southern California, which marketed successfully more than half the orange crop of Southern California, which marketed successfully more than half the orange crop of Southern California, which marketed successfully more than half the orange crop of Southern California and fixed a basis of successful operation for the future. The last crop was put upon the market so as not to be in conflict with itself. A good remunerative price was secured for it, and every dollar invested as stock in the union was returned with more than 100 per cent. Profit on the same. Through the union some of us secured for our crop, net, in the tree, more than 1550 per acre, with a still brighter prospect in the future. But the mission of this society is not ended of red and achievements in the true await us. The question use and a solved is, how to meet and solved is, how to feel upon Eastern clover. In here give a remedy that has never less than the future await us. The question used to a secured to the future await us. The question of the south of the ground.

Some object to alfalfa, saying that stock fed upon it are liable to bloat. So will stock fed upon Eastern clover. In here give a remedy that has never less than the future await us. The question of the south of the solution of the south of the ground.

attention was paid to it as now. Grand successes are among the probabilities of the near future. No time was ever more propitious for active efforts than the present, and no land was ever more promising of success than Southern California. Almost every known variety of fruit reaches perfection here, and some kinds reach a higher state of excellence here than in their native land. This is true of the Bahia orange, commonly called "Washington Navel." The success of this fruit entities it to the name, of the "California Seedless Orange," and this society ought to insist upon this nomenclature.

Southern Californians have a wellestablished reputation for enterprise, and it is proposed to take another step in advance in pomological investigation and research.

Southern Californians have a wellestablished reputation for enterprise, and it is proposed to take another step in advance in pomological investigation and research.

The American Pomological Society held its seventh biennial session in July last at Cleveland, O. Nearly every state in the Union was represented, as was also the Canadas and Japan. After a successful and enthusiastic session it adjourned to meet at some place in California in 1888. This society should take steps at once to secure that meeting at Los Angeles or some other place in Southern California, and to call a cosmopolitan pomological congress at the same time and place. This may be done by call on the Department of State to instruct the American Consuls in all lands to send such a delegate, if possible, and if not possible, then to send us a report of the fruits of that land, with seeds and specimens, to the continue in life. When gophers are troublesome, I advise, after a newly-seeded track is settled, to throw out a ditch 12 or 14 inches wide and 16 or 18 inches deep; then sink a leaky oil can down in the bottom of the ditch. By this device you can keep the gophers out entirely. In case you can irrigate, this ditch will carry a head of water (100 in.) and by striking a tappoon across you can flood your whole ground. I have used this kind of ditch for several years with marked success. My mode of treatment with alfalfa is this: After it has been sown three or four years I apply a sharp harrow, well weighted down, say 200 pounds, and give it a thorough application both ways, and then an application with a heavy bush, causing the stools to start very vigorously, and also levels the surface of the ground. To secure the greatest amount of feed, it is desirable to cut it instead of pasturing it. Never allow stock to tramp over and pack the ground.

Some object to alfalfa, saying that

DISCUSSION.

D. Edson Smith, of Santa Ana: I sowed a patch of alfalfa four years ago and it has gradually "run out," especially during the past year, and the irrigating water has brought on the seeds of many weeds, some pretty bad, ones. I now want to renew it and ask for information as to the best method to follow. I believe we do not use enough seed in first starting, and the roots are thus enabled to grow large and loose thus enabled to grow large and loose and thus fail to continue in life. Can and a half seems time enough for its accomplishment, but there is no time to be lost.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Inasmuch as nearly every man who is the owner of a 10 or 20 acre ranch finds it is necessary to keep a cow, some chickens, and a horse or two, the subject of growing alfalfa is of decided interest. It is usual to set aside a small piece of land, generally about an acre for this purpose.

ALFALFA.

Interesting Discussion Before the Pomological Society.

At the last session of the Los Angeles County Pomological Society, held in Santa Ana, the following interesting discussion of alfalfa took place, led by W. Z. Cook. Mr. Cook said:

In these times of so great an influx of people to Southern California to make their homes with us, and as this country is destined to support a dense population, it behooves us to look well to our future supply of hay and pasture. To our Eastern brothers a few facts relative to the above stable production may be of seme interest. If I may be excused, I will give my own experience, and what has come under my own observation.

Alfalfa as a fodder plant is coming more and more into general use and farmore and more into gene relative to the above stable production may be of some interest. If I may be excused, I will give my own experience, and what has come under my own observation.

Alfalfa as a fodder plant is coming more and more into general use and farey, both for horses and cows, and in fact all kinds of stock, hogs not excepted.

I am inclined to think that there is mo fodder plant that will continue in full bearing equal to the above, if properly handled.

Seven years ago this coming March, I sowed about three-fourths of an acre, and for years this block has furnished feed for a span of horses and a cow entirely, excepting a few pumpkins, and have sold considerable hay. For the part to milk and butter, on alfalfa alone, than cows do in the States with good on the states with the woung growth.

My experience leads me to advise those who desire planting alfalfa, to plow very deep (subsoiling is far better), and pulverize thoroughly, sow thirty pounds of seed—not less—to the acre and brush it in lightly. By this plan you gain three points: First, you will get a greater amount of hay. Unless you can irrigate, I would advise so will be much finer, and third, you will get a greater amount of hay. Unless you can irrigate, I would reven the stools will be much finer, and third, you will get a greater amount of hay. Unless you can irrigate, I would advise so those who desire planting alfalfa, to pluy rities the first year after seeding. Second, the stools will be much finer, and third, you will get a greater amount of hay. Unless you can irrigate, I would advise so those who desire planting alfalfa, to pluy the proper of the sold and the experience. As for the yield, that depends very materially on the care given. The average is from one and one-half to two tons per acre at a cutting. Five crops of hay and one of seed are often grown in one soon.

When gophers are troublesome, I advise, after a newly-seeded track is settled, to throw out a dittel 12 or 14 set.

oleomargarine is oleomargarine is a glass tube half an inch in diameter and is six inches long, having degree marks on its circumference. With it is a tube an inch and a quarter in diameter. To make the test, the tin tube is filled with water, heated to a temperature of 180 degrees, and the glass tube is filled with the article to be inspected. If it is genuine butter the result will show the butter to melt to a liquid oil, and in the bottom of the tube a whitish curd of cheese will be deposited to the amount of about three-tenths, as indicated by the scale marked on the tube, and the remainder of the contents will be pure oil. In the case of a test of butterine the result is quite different. The same process is gone through with, but the per cent. of deposit or curd will be very small, and tiny flakes adhere to the sides of the tube, and the greater portion of the tube's contents will be oil, quite different in appearance, as the butter oil is transparent and the butterine oil is transparent and the butterine oil is transparent and the special examiner will have but little difficulty in discovering the violators of the new law.

Air-slacked lime should be freely scattered over the floors of the henhouses to remove unpleasant odors.

It is certain that it costs less in the long run to feed and tend the poultry stock properly than to keep them in a half-starved and neglected condition. half-starved and neglected condition.
Scratching is about the only exercise, and, as exercise is necessary for good health, it can readily be seen that the hen must be given the right to scratch. A good way to accomplish this is by using cut straw, clover, hay, dry leaves, etc. In this litter throw a few oats, a little wheat, barley, buckwheat, and occasionally a few sunflower seeds. Do not throw down all these grains at once, but vary them, in order to have a change. If the grains disappear it is not because the hens cannot find them, for they will pick out every one. This mode of feeding is better than all the condition powers ever made, and, in condition powers ever made, and, in place of wearing the poultry out pre-maturely, will build them up strong, healthy and profitable.

Angeles county. There was snow this county, to be sure, but it fell only regular visitor every winter.

THE oldest convict in the Auburn Penitentiary died last week. He was serving a life sentence for killing his father and mother, whose hearts he cut out and ate. He had been troubled with indigestion ever since, and his life was not a joyous one. His death is re garded at Auburn as a happy release.

THE Boston Journal brings the startling intelligence that the new postoffice site in Los Angeles is to be abandoned in consequence of the discovery of an oil spring in the cellar. The site may be given up for a better, but it will not be done until the oil spring spurts or Uncle Sam puts up his own building here.

It is interesting to note how news increases as it flies. An up-country paper has it that oil well No. 6, at Puente, which took fire when it began to spout, not only burned up the derrick. but the well itself was destroyed. "Loss," it says, "$25,000." The fact is that the derrick was destroyed, but the flame from the well was speedily extinguished and the well is as good as ever

The Hand of the Traitor.

That the Tribune, which accorded a quasi support to Gen. Vandever, the Republican candidate for Congressman in the last campaign, was merely act-ing a part was well known to all who read between its lines. It did not dare to oppose him in a straight-out way; ecause, of course, being a new apostle of political consistency it could not "mugwump." But it could lie low and stab him in the back. Probably its only ground of objection to Vandever was that he was strongly supported by THE TIMES; but, flimsy as this pretext was, it sufficed. The hand of the traitor is at last made manifest, however, in an article which appeared in the Tribune yesterday morning This article was ostensibly inspired by 'a staunch Republican," who jogged the editor's elbow, "not avowedly in the interest of Gen. Vandever, but in the spirit of friendship toward that distinguished gentleman, to explain why the answer to Col. Lynch was made partisan rather than personal." Why this particularly staunch Republican (whom we think we know) should prefer a personal to a partisan answer, or vice versa, is one of the mysteries. Why the Tribune should declare that Gen. Vandever's answer to "Colonel" Lynch will not do, and that it ought to be withdrawn, is perfectly understandable. It is the Tribune's way of stabbing Vandever in the back. That this loudly proclaimed "staunch" Republican should make use of the very argument or excuse for argument employed by "Colonel" Lynch and his satellites through the campaign - that Gen. Vandever is no longer young—is of it-self somewhat significant. The knife of the open enemy is in the hands of the covert assassin,

The portion of Gen. Vandever's answer which the Tribune particularly declares will not do is as follows:

The respondent further says that he is increased for taken the paper regularly. They are afforded an opportunity to see what our Monday morning edition is like, and will find in it the news of the day, as usual on other days of the week. Society's Perpetual Motion.

The fact that THE TIMES appears to day (Monday) and announces its determination to appear on succeeding Mondays, thus becoming a "seven-day" paper, may be cited not as an innova tion on the fixed customs of newspaper dom, but rather in conformity them. The newspapers of all large cities are published every morning in the week, and as Los Angeles, if not entitled to be classed as a large city now, is fast becoming one, we but bow to the inevitable in taking this new de parture.

Of course every reader knows that today's paper is the result of the same strenuous effort as that put forth for any other issue, and that this labor was performed on Sunday and Sunday night. The one day of rest claime hitherto by editors, reporters, telegraph operators, compositors, pressmen, car riers—the small army of people whose united efforts produce the paper and place it in the hands of its readers-is thus obliterated. This is done not because editors, reporters, printers. and the small army aforesaid are am bitions to work all the time or even to make more money by reason of their unremitted toil, but rather because the great public (whose every wish is consulted by those catering to it) has a fancy for its paper, with its coffee, Mon-for rest or recreation until the final time, when the toiler must go elsewhere to seek it. The hotels and restaurants and boarding-houses, the railroad, street-car and ferry lines, the hackmen and livery-men have long been involved in the ceaseless maelstrom. Many manufacturing establishments have plunged into it and many more are brought to its verge by more are brought to its verge by the pressure of competition. Flouring mills and like concerns where heavy power and automatic machinery are ise, are generally operated night as well as day, Sunday as well as weekday. The whirr of the wheel, the buzz of the stone or roller, is never stayed except for repair or cleaning. Men may come and men may go in night shifts and day shifts, but the great grinding machine goes on forever. The same is true of the working of large mines and it is measurably true of mines, and it is measurably true of other occupations. It is not long since the piers of the Buena Vista-street bridge, in this city, were built by forces of men working days, nights and Sun-

Is the time coming when our great manufacturing, trading, pleasure-making and pleasure-giving world will-whirl on without check night or day? The tendency seems to be in that direction. Then, under the glare of tricity, the merchant and his will go on buying and selling until relieved by the force which comes on duty at daybreak. Then the real estate and insurance agent will be abroad at midnight. The all-night saloon and the all-night restaurant will no longer hold the field of nocturnal traffic undisputed, but there will be all-night banks and brokerage establishments; all-night steamship and railroad offices; all-night lawyers, all-night courts and all-night notaries; all-night doctors, and an all-night and all-Sunday buzz of activity everywhere The brain grows dizzy in contemplat ing the picture. But the mo civilized, money-making world is con ing to it, nevertheless.

It Shook Him.

The miserable subterfuges which the Sacramento Bee is willing to adopt to prejudice its readers against Southern California, is well illustrated by the following, which we quote from its columns:

"This country suits me to a T,' said J. C. Sepulveda, a well-known druggist in this city, while discussing the boom that Southern California is now enjoying. He said that he was born and raised in Los Angeles county, but had resided in Sacramento eight years. During the time he lived in the southern city he was almost constantly troubled with malaria, but it has never taken hold of him after coming to the Capital city. Mr. Sepulveda's experience as a druggist has caused him to notice the condition of the health of the two communities. Los Angeles drauggists sell pounds of quinine, and Sacramento dealers feel lucky if they can sell a few grains. The vast amount of irrigating done in and about Los Angeles has a tendency to give everybody the 'shakes,' and quinine is an absolute necessity. Mr. Sepulveda gave up his home in Los Angeles county because he thought this climate was milder and more invigorating."

Anybody at all conversant with Anybody at all conversant with outhern California knows that malaria is one of the least causes of physical ailment here. As to the story of Mr. Sepulveda above quoted, it is a flat misrepresentation of facts. Mr. Sepulveda was certainly not shaken out of this country by the ague. He might have been shaken out by some other cause, however. There have been some very good and likewise some very bad Sepulvedas in Los Angeles in time

The latest idiocy of the Daily Betsy is to the effect that we are on the verge of another Indian war, and that Gen Miles and his subordinates are prepar ing to cry havoc and let slip the bellicose canines. The story is as absolutely false as it is inconceivably stupid There is no more danger of an Indian war than there is of Betsy's getting sense. The Navajos are as peaceable people now as there are in the Territories. They are wealthy and contented, and could hardly be driven to war, for they know how suicidal it would be for them to give the whites an excuse for appropriating their wealth. For the government to move against the Navajos now would be as brutal an outrage as the mind can conceive. The officers of the army are as quick to concede this as any one else at all conversant with the facts in the case; and no war is in remotest contemplation. The claim that Betsy has given any new information about the Navajos, is of a piece with the rest. THE TIMES has frequently, within two years, printed much fuller and more accurate information on this subject than the D. B. has given or can give.

Stick to Their Belt.

That Fresno and Tulare counties are loyal to their own proper "belt" is attested by the following, which we clip from the Fresno Expositor:

from the Fresno Expositor:

"We notice statements to the effect that Fresno and Tulare counties belong to the northern citrus belt,' and that we will participate in the citrus fair to be held at San Jose soon. This is a mistake, for we are not inclined to go where we do not belong, notwithstanding the fact that one of our packers did go up to the Sacramento fair, and put in some of our ordinary raisins and took the first prize away quite easily. That does not connect us with the northern belt We belong to the Los Angeles belt, and the statement that we are going out of our own belt to compete at the San José fair is without foundation. We are not only just but merciful, and therefore will keep on our own side of the line."

No Indian Outrages in Sonora.

[Tucson Citizen.]

A well-known army officer has just returned from Sonora, Mexico, after thoroughly investigating the alleged Indian outrages which were reported to have been committed a short time ago. The officer, with a hunding party which included several Indian souts, happened to be in the vicinity of Oputo at the time the report was received that a party of Mexicans en route from that place to Oposura had been attacked by Indians and one of the party killed. He immediately proceeded to the spot where the attack was made, and put his Indian souts on the track, which was carefully followed. The scouts soon discovered that they were not pursuing Indians, but a band of Mexican robbers, as some of their clothing was found secreted near where the attack was made. The Mexican authorities continued the chase after the robbers, and succeeded in capturing one of them, who was subsequently shot. From the story of the captured man it was found that his band had disguised themselves as Indians before making the attack, and that their object was to secure the $600 in Mexican silver which was known to be with the train. The officer says that on his trip through the mountains of Sonora, he saw no Indian signs, and heard nothing of them, the general belief being that the small party now out has gone far down into the Sierra Madras and will never be heard from again.

I met ex-collector Thomas Murphy yesterday. Very much to my surprise Murphy told me that he had not spoken to Conkling for a year past.

He told a curious story of how he had first brought Conkling to the attention of Gen. Grant. Murphy and the President were out driving at Long Branch on one occasion, and he mentioned Conkling to the President as a very strong and influential man in New York politics. "But not in the Senate." suggested Grant. Murphy differed with him. "Oh, no," said Grant, "for he is his own worst enemy." About a year ago Murphy told Conkling of Grant's original estimate of him—"he is his own worst enemy." "What did he mean by that?" demanded Conkling of Murphy. "Not that you drank too much," explained Murphy, "but that you antagonize people by your manner." Murphy is now one of the antagonized.

Should the succeed in enlisting the fifty and should they be persistent enough to wear the kneebreeches for a few days, there would, doubtless, be many to follow their lead, for it seems to be the general opinion of men that knee-breeches are handsomer and very much more convenient than long, baggy, flappy cago. more convenient than long, baggy, trousers. Sherman and the Lieutenant.

[Washington Letter.]

Speaking of Gen. Sherman's absent-mindedness, an old soldier said today: "An incident happened on Pine Mountain, Ga., the evening that Gen. Sherman sent his famous dispatch "Hold the fort, I am coming." to Allatoona, October 5, 1864. The General received a fresh cigar from some one, cigars being scarce, and began to shout for a light. Lieut. J. Clarence Peck, of Gen. Whittaker's staff, was the fortunate possessor of a freshly-lighted cigar, and her politely handed it to Gen. Sherman, who lit his own cigar and then deliberately threw the Lieutenant's cigar away. A broad smile displayed itself all around. The General was thinking of those million rations at Allatoona, but it didn't appease the disgust of the Lieutenant."

Lady Brassey's Monkey Boudoir.

[From a London Letter.]

The show apartment in the house of Lady Brassey, whose "Voyage of the Sunbeam" made her famous as a clever woman as well as the wife of a rich man, is the monkey boudoir. It is described as a snuggery to delight the soul of Darwin. The monkey is adapted to all the details of the decoration; he climbs over walls, gambols on the frieze, scrambles over the celling, and is stuffed and suspended in mid air wherever he can be made picturesquely available. Monkeys are worked in the tapestries, figures in the carpets and rugs, are painted upon the piano and carved upon the legs. The quaintness of the conceit is only exceeded by the success with which it has been developed.

Squatters in Santa Barbara County.

Squatters in Santa Barbara County. [Lompoc Record.]

About a dozen squatters have located on lands between the Santa Rita, Cajo and San Julian ranchos, which they claim is government land. The squatters are from Los Angeles, Santa Ynez and Las Cruces. We are informed that they have brought in several hundred head of stock, and have come to stay. The Los Angeles men say that they have information from competent authority that they can make their claims good.

How is This Br'er Pope?

[Kansas City Journal.]

It is rather odd that none of the friends of Dr. McGlynn has called attention to the fact that the same pope who so severely disciplines the New York priest for his communistic ideas, has taken preliminary steps toward the canonization of Sir Thomas More, whose "Utonola" injetures communism.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Maj. M. C. Carroll publishes in the American a letter from Col. Grant in which he refers as follows to Col. Boynton's recent article in the New York Sun about drunkenness on the part of Gen. Grant: "I was 35 years old when he died. I spent 26 of these warms by his side and never as a present of the state o signs of the weakness of which Boynton speaks. There are several persons who are speaks. REPENTING THEIR FOLLY.

Bitter Feeling Against the Leaders of the New York Strike.

New York, Feb. 18.—[By the Associated Press.] The Brewers' Union met today. The members were outspoken against the leaders of District Assembly No. 49, and said they could not understand why the brewers, of all trades, had been ordered to help bolster a forlorn cause at the eleventh hour, which "49" had vainly ordered them to do. Herbrandt, secretary of the Nato do. Herbrandt, secretary of the Na-tional Brewers' Union, expressed the belief that the strike had been wholly mismanaged tional Brewers' Union, expressed the belief that the strike had been wholly mismanaged from the start, and was doomed to disastrous collapse from its inception. The brewers would not strike, because they were earning good wages and would not risk these advantages besides breaking their contract, when the result would only be additions to the common loss. Resolutions embodying these opinions were adopted, and this action was supplemented by an official determination that the brewers' organization should withdraw its delegates from District 49, which is practically a secession from that body. The beer drivers' organization, at a meeting in the same hall later in the day, took action identical with that of the Brewers' Union.

Delegations from all the 'longshoremen's unions of New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City had a convention this afternoon. The men were in conference four hours, and decided not to return to work save at 40 cents per hour for day work and 60 cents per hour for overtime. One ship-owner was present and agreed to set 25 men at work at once at 40 and 60 cents, pending a permanent adjustment of prices, but with the understanding that if the general scale became 35 and 45 cents, his work should be then done by the men at the same rates. This proposition was accepted. There was developed a strong undertone of feeling against those who had led the men into the late strike.

TO HELP APPLICANTS FOR PENSIONS.

The Commissioner of Pensions has had prepared a letter of instructions and blank forms of applications and affidavits of witnesses for the use of applicants for pen-sions under the Mexican pension law of January 19, 1887. The blanks, he thinks, will facilitate the business of his office and enable applicants to have their rights promptly adjudicated without unnecespense. The Commissioner expects to have the blanks printed and ready for use on Wednesday next February 16th. He invites direct application to his office by expectant pensioners. Upon receipt of an individual application an appropriate letter of instruction and set of blanks will be forwarded to the applicant. The letters of instructions are full and explicit and the blank forms plain, and all may be easily understood, without the necessity of a legal education.

Gossip About the Coming Kentucky Derby.

San Francisco, Feb. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Examiner's New York special tonight says: "Krik will say in the World tomorrow that the talk in racing circles during the past week has been principally confined to the betting done by some of the city book-makers on the Kentucky Derby. For the Derby one book is already 'full' against Haggin's Silver Bow, a bay
'golt by Fechter, that has never yet run, but is said to have shown very fast time in the spring of 1886. The actual favorites for the Kentucky Derby at present, with only from 10 to 13 to 1 offered against them, are A. G.
McCampbell's Jim Gore, by Hindoo,' and Baidwin's Goliath, by Grimstead. In the same stable, and quoted at 15 to 1; Is Laredo, by Grimstead, who is also said to be a candidate for Derby honors, although net with as good a claim as Goliath. Aleaide is also quoted at 15 to 1 for the Kentucky Derby. Whether Mr. Haggin will start Aleaide at Louisville or not the public can not have the slightest chance of knowing. Last year the public backed Ban Fox to win the Kentucky Derby, and he was liked till a few hours before the race, when Mr. Haggin 'scratched' him and ran Ben Ali, who went to the post the favorite and won by a length. Mr. Haggin's lot for the Kentucky Derby includes Acton, Aleaide, Banbridge, Bankura, Klamath, Marigold, Silver Bow and Tupare. At least, they had not been declared out when Ben Bruce, the secretary of the Louisville Jockey Club, made public declarations early in the winter of the lot. Goodwin shows Alcalde to be the best, but, as he is a beaten maiden and engaged in the Emporium stakes at Sheepshead Bay, he may be saved for that race, as Hidalgo was in 1885. So far as Jim Gore, Goliath, Laredo and Alcalde are concerned, it would seem that they are best let alone for the present." Gossip About the Coming Kentucky

A Preacher Rebukes a Bridegroom [Lancaster Special to the New York World.]
A young couple called upon the key. Sylvanus Stall, of this city, yesterday afternoon, to be married. While the ceremony was in progress and the man had said the important 'yes,' the minister detected the odor of liquor. He immediately stopped and told the expectant groom he would have to ask him another question. Had he been drinking? The man at first denied, but finally confessed that he had taken one glass. The minister declined to proceed with the ceremony, stating that he had formed a resolution never to marry a man who was in any way under the influence of liquor. The situation was embarrassing to all parties concerned, but the preacher persisted, returned the license, and the parties went elsewhere in seach of some one to perform the marriage ceremony.

They were not very novel, and not on the whole very instructive. Lord Hartington's was one of the most comprehensive, wanting in neither firmness nor power. Sexton was as eloquent as usual. Neither he nor any other Liberal pronounces squarely for or against the plan of campaign. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach declared that the government had a policy. No statement has occasioned more surprise than this did, but presently it appeared that their policy was contingent on the report of the Cowpers Commission, a report which is, of course, still an unknown quantity. Chamberlain opened not his mouth, nor yet did Gladstone, whose absence has caused heart-burnings. Goschen's reappearance in the House of Commons gave rise to a peculiar scene. He was cheered with great warmth by the Liberal Unionists and Conservatives, as is usual when a distinguished man takes his seat. What was not usual was the derisive shouts and cries of "renegade," with which the Parnellites and some of the Radicals greeted him. But temper runs high just now. Witness the Daily News, which declares that Goschen received a warmer welcome than any apostate since Julian Gladstone's final decision not to take part in the debate on Parnell's amendment, is attributed by the Tortes to his discovery that home rule, if judged by the result of Gos-

Judge Willis and Mr. W. J. Curtis have gone to Sacramento. While there, they will endeavor to secure legislation permitting the Supervisors to provide the necessary additional deputies to transact the vast increasing business of the county. As it is, official business is falling hopelessly in arrears. The Recorder's office is behind three months in its work. If Mr. Allen is not given more deputies, business must fall hopelessly behind. His whole salary is not sufficient to pay for the required deput work. If some relief is not given him, he will be almost rained. He does all that is possible but neither he nor any other man can do the impossible. We trust that Messrs. Willis and Curtis will obtain the necessary authority for the Supervisors to act equitably in providing additional deputies for both the Recorder and the Assessor. The latter will be in just as cruel a position as the former if the Supervisors cannot give him assistance.

Dr. Clarence Dickey was called in right away and performed a most skillful operation. He will save the eye but the sight is in all probability forever ruined.

FRUIT AND GRAZING LANDS

IN SAN LUIS OBISPO CO . FOR SALE.

Two thousand acres, eight miles east of "Paso Robles, Springs" and seven miles from railroad. About 400 acres is bottom, the balance rolling iand. The soil is deep and rich. No irrigation is necessary; the rainfall is sufficient. No better climate in the State; is twenty miles from sea-coast; is free from the cold fogs and bleak winds, that prevail near the coast, and is free from the intense heat of the interior valleys. The land is covered with bunch grass, clover and allileria, the most nutritious of all native grasses. The land is especially adapted to fruit growing and grazing, the best two branches of farming in California. The "Huer Huero" creek passes through the center of the land, in which there is running water the year round. There are also two springs of as pure water as can be found, separated about a mile from each other. On the bottom land there is an ever-growing supply of willow trees. Oak trees are in abundance all over the place. At two dollars per cord there is at least $10,000 worth of wood on the land. Price, $15 per acre; $15,000 cash, balance on time.

DUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TREES, 2

Los Anorles, Saturday, Feb. 12.

The week closes with continued dullness in the grain market, and a further decline in the price of Wheat and Barley.

At the Produce Exchange today the asking price of Barley Feed fell off 5 cents; Peerless Potatoes advanced to $2.25; Sweet Potatoes (red and white) were up to $26 (Lo); Onions (Northern Yellow Danvers) were $1 dearer, being quoted at $3.63.50; the best varieties of Batter declined 1 cent; in Poultry, Hens and Young Roosters were higher, at $7.50; Eggs were 1 cent lower. The remainder of the list was unchanged. According to a compliation by the statistician of the New York Produce Exchange, there is only $4,000,000 bushels of Wheat available for export from both coasts between February 1st and June 1st, allowing 2,000,000 bushels to be exported to the West Hodies South America, etc. He claims that the United Kingdom alone will require $5,000,000 bushels before June 1st.

San Francisco advices say that the Fruit market continues quiet and all varieties are in light demand. Oranges continue plentified.

$22.00 for a $75.00 High-Arm Sewing-Machine And The Weekly Mirror.

THE MIRROR

Perfect and Improved High-Arm Sewing-Machine.

For $22 this machine and WEEKLY MIRROR, postage paid, for one year.

This machine is the first of its kind ever offered the public at factory prices, and cannot be bought from agents for less than the regular selling price, $55. It is the high-arm sattern, has self-setting needle; cannot be run backward; has automatic cut-off for driving belt, which prevents it from being run backward, thus avoiding all dangers of breaking thread or needles. It is a noiseless, light-running machine, accompanied by an illustrated book of instructions that makes everything so plain and simple that any lady or child can master it. We call it the MiRROR HIGH-ARM SEWING MACHINE, and we warrant it to give full and entire satisfaction in every case, or it may be returned to us within ton days after the subscriber has received the same, if it fails to be as respresented, at our expense, and the money will be refunded.

The above cut represents our HIGH-ARM MIRROR SEWING MACHINE, the very latest improved machine of the high-arm style; a complete embodiment of all the most recent improved machine of the high-arm style; a complete embodiment of all the most recent improved machine mechanism; a model selected by us after a careful and critical ltor Mich Arm Serving McChink, and we warrant it to give full and entire satisfaction in every case, or it may be returned to us within ten days after the subscriber has received the same, if it falls to be as respresented, at our expense, and the money will be refunded.

The above cut represents our High-Arm MikhRok SEWING MaChink, the very latest improved machine of the high-arm style; a complete embodiment of all the most recent improvements in sewing machine mechanism; a model selected by us after a careful and critical examination and test of the various machines in the market.

Having arranged with the manufacturers to supply us with these machines in large quantities for spot cash at or very near first cost, we can save our subscribers at least $5 on the price of each machine. As this is the first time a sewing machine of this character has been offered to the public at about manufacturer's cost, we feel confident our readers will promptly take advantage of this opportunity to provide themselves with first-class high-arm machine, which obtained in any other way would cost them almost three times the amount.

We could fill several columns expatiating on the merits of this high-arm machine, but to save the reader's patience we will simply say that it contains all the modern improvements, is strong, simple, durable, light-running and noiseless.

OUTFIT—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: One Hemmer and Feller (one piece). Twelve Needles, Six Bobbins, One Wrench, One Quilting Gauge, One Screw Driver, Oil can filled with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb-screw and a Book of Directions. The following extra statehments are also furnished free: Ruffler, Tucker, Binder, Set Of Wide Hemmers and Shirring Plate.

The regular retail price of this machine is $75. Our price with a year's subscription to the Weekly Mirkuon is only $22.

Khowing the character of the machine and the high grade of material and workmanship entering into its count for the machine on trial, and if not satisfactory return the money at

HOW TO ORDER. When you remit us the $22 for the Machine and WEEKLY MIRROR one year, write plainly the point the machine is to be shipped to, as well as 'the postoffice the paper is to be sent to. The machine should be ordered to the nearest railroad point where the railroad company has an agent stationed, and the name of railroad station, the county and State should be stated. When $22 are sent for the WEEKLY MIRROR one year and the machine, the reight charges from the factory are to be paid by the subscriber at the point Machine is delivered to. We would advise subscribers to order machine sent by freight, as the freight charges are about one-third to one-fourth of express charges; and while the time taken in the currying of the machine is a little longer, they go just as securely and safely as by express. The machines will be shipped direct from the manufactory (Chicago), all set up ready for use. The money must accompany order. Address.

A Correspondent Who Thinks There Is No Comparison in Either with Los Angeles—Personal Points About Legislators and Lobbyists.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11. [Correspondence of THE TIMES.]—It has rained or snowed every day for a week, and the Lord only knows when we shall have any pleasant weather. What do you think the Eastern visitors will conclude about this, up north of Sacramento hunting around in the snow for the citrus beit? "I guess Los Angeles will hold its own for awhile." So said, a Northern California man the other day, and let all the people say amen.

I stood at the entrance to the Capitol today, waiting for the rain to check so that I could pursue my way homeward, as I had ventured out without an umbrella, the first time for more than a week.

pursue my way homeward, as I had centured out without an umbrella, the first time for more than a week.

"Oh, you need your umbrella; don't you?" said the chaptain of the Assembly, who came out just then.

"Yes." I answered; "but I came from Los Angeles, you know, and we need umbrellas so little I can't strased to it."

"But you had snow down there," he replied qulekly, and the general impression seems to be that if that story isn't true it ought to be.

The atmosphere of this place, climatic and social, is so far surpassed by that of the City of the Angels that it does not seem possible one can be in the same State.

Work is rushing in the Capitol now.

The Assembly holds night sessions and the working members never seem to have a moment to spare. One of the busiest of these is'a certain member from your city, who was pointed out to an inquiring visitor by a page as "the big, fat feller with the little pug nose." His associate is never a whit less busy.

Variel, of Plumas county, is another man who seems to be here for some purpose.

Tail, siender, quick of movement, his closely-cropped head and long, flowing, sandy beard may be always seen in the heat of the fray.

It must be admitted there are very few he fray.

It must be admitted there are very few rood talkers in either house, and very little is ever attempted more than a short and sometimes very animated discussion of sometimes very animated discussion of some measure.

The forestry and mining bills made considerable debate in the Senate, and the Assembly had a rather lively time over the appropriation for the university, but there was no attempt at oratory by any one.

Lobbyists are plentiful and active. Mrs. Rienzi, secretary of the State Board of Silk Culture, is working for an appropriation for her work which is needed. It is to be hoped she will meet with success.

Laura De Force Gordon has been working in the interests of some measure for the insane, and at one time the lobby was full of men, but some of them have succeeded in getting things fixed and have gone home.

The wives and daughters of members are often present and many ladies are visiting at certain times of the day.

Some attempt at galety is made spasmodically in society, but residents complain that it is the dullest legislative season ever known.

t is the duliest registration.

Very few bills have been passed by either house, considering the number still on the file, many of them for first reading.

One measure passed by the Senate was that requiring instruction in the public schools on the effects of narcotics and stimulants. There was not a dissenting vote.

ROBBERY.

A Periodical Drunk Relieved of His Watch.

Short-hand Reporter Weed, who, in his periodical jamborees, is the stock subject for footpads and robbers, was robbed again last night. About midnight Officers Lemon, Dalton and Lynch went to the vicinity of First and Wilmington streets to quiet a disturbance reported to be in a saloon. They First and Wilmington streets to quiet a dis-turbance reported to be in a saloon. They found no uproarious saloon, but they saw Weed standing on the corner in an alter-eation with two other men, and heard him accuse them of taking his watch. As the officers came up the two men beat a retreat, one on First and the other on Wilmington street. The officers gave chase, and Lemon fired several shots over the heads of the fugitives, but they made good their escape. Weed was found to be very drunk. It is scarcely two months since he was rolled and robbed of his purse. Veed was found to be careely two months sand robbed of his purse

Useless Expense. [Chronicle.]

Useless Expense.

[Chronicle.]

A most pernicious custom has grown up in the Legislature of committees leaving their business at Sacramento and galloping all over the country at the expense of the State under pretense of examining State institutions. The ostensible purpose of these trips is to collect information to lay before the Legislature as a guide to appropriations for the ensuing two years, but, as a matter of fact, they are, in almost every case, holiday trips and the occasion for a royal good time. The latest fraud of this kind is sending two committees to Los Angeles to examine the Normal School at that city. This trip takes away from the Assembly one-fourth of its members, keeps them away from Sacramento from Friday until Tuesday, and cost the State at least $1800, and for no useful purpose whatever. The reports of the officers of that school are, or should be, at Sacramento, and all the necessary information should be attainable from them.

It may be necessary, in extreme cases, from them.

It may be necessary, in extreme cases, where complaint is made to the Legislature of some glaring evil connected with a public institution, to send a committee of investigation to examine the matter upon the ground; but in most cases the members of the Legislature will do better to stay at Sacramento and attend to their legitimate basiness. The Los Angeles Normal School has not been the subject of any public complaint, and there is no necessity at all for this excursion. It is wanton waste of the people's time and money, and should be condemned and the habit of taking such trips done away with for the future.

Jabber: "That's a very killing bonnet your wife wore to the theater last evening." Jiber: "So I understand. The fellow who sat behind her nearly twisted his neck off trying to see around it."—[Lowell Citizen.

Medical. SPECIAL NOTICE

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. M. HILTON WILLIAMS

Dy US.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Sept. 24, 1888.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR Sir: I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city to whom I could have referred, when I first came to Los Angeles I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent can skill I could find, all without any permanent commended Los Angeles. For all the total recand then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medical friesd I was induced to try your treatment, which I did August 29, 1884. I become very much discouraged at times, but persevated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with the use of your remedies, I consider I am permanentic cured. If this will be of any:
alse to refer any one to my mother, my bushant of the many testimonials won by Dr. Williams it gives me pleasure to add my own to the list so highly in Mary the statement of the meantime, but found only temporary relief. After two months' treatment, prescribed by Dr. Williams, my cough left me altogether and I now have no ever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even, then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the fluctuation and in contracting and healing the switchs, which nothing else can do with the same shecess. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE. Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address. Real Ostate.
